SAYS NICHOLAS DESIRED PEACE

Berlin Paper Comments on Montenegrin Situation.

MONARCH FLED SOON AFTER

Lokal Anzeiger Declares Delegates Signing Treaty to End War Were Within Their Rights and That Ratification by Absent Royal Family Is Unnecessary.

Berlin, Jan. 29.—The Lokal Anzeiger, commenting on the details of the surrender of Montenegro, states that the absence of King Nicholas at this time has little weight, since the constitution provides that the heir to the throne shall act in his absence, and in the absence of the heir the cabinet is in possession of governmental power.

The Montenegrin delegates, General Beiler and Major Lompar, the newspaper says, signed the document on behalf of the cabinet members who remained in Montenegro. Therefore, the Lokal Anzeiger declares, the treaty is valid without ratification by the king, crown prince or anybody else connected with the government.

Besides, the newspaper says King Nicholas committed himself by a letter written in his own hand and a telegram on Jan. 13, in which he asked Emperor Francis Joseph for peace. The king left Montenegro Jan. 18.

The next duty of the Austro-Hungarians, the Lokal Anzeiger concludes, is to feed the starving Montenegrins.

The Berliner Tageblatt published a telegram, under a Sofia date, according to which a Bulgarian diplomat, well acquainted with King Nicholas and his ways, stated that, after the first news concerning peace negotiations became known, Crown Prince Danilo, the king of Italy and the emperor of Russia bombarded the king with telegrams requesting him not to bring his Italian son-in-law and daughters into a most awkward position by surrendering, whereupon, the dispatch states, the king apparently considered flight as the most convenient means of escape from all difficulties.

SENDS INQUIRY TO AUSTRIA

United States Seeks Facts on Sinking of Persia.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The United States has addressed another inquiry to Austria asking if any of its submarine commanders have knowledge of the destruction of the British liner Persia.

A statement that they have none, reported to have been handed to Ambassador Penfield several days ago, never has been received here.

State department officials consider that they virtually have exhausted every other source of information in their effort to establish what caused the sinking of the Persia with the loss of two American lives.

The state department wants a definite statement from the Vienna government and should a denial be received the case probably will be considered closed.

LARGER FORESTS ARE URGED

Conservation Advocates Appear Before House Committee.

Washington, Jan. 29.—To urge as "a measure of economy" the adoption of the proposed appropriation in this year's agricultural bill providing for the continuance of purchases of national forest land in the Southern Appalachian regions and in New England, representatives of nearly 200 forestry and conservation bodies appeared at a hearing before the house committee on agriculture.

The plan was to urge the committee to recommend an item of $10,000,000 be carried in the bill to be available at a rate of $2,000,000 a year, which would enable the purchase of 300,000 to 400,000 acres of mountain land each year to be developed for timber production, watershed protection and public recreation grounds.

TRAGEDY ENDS ON SCAFFOLD

George Quinn Is Hanged for Murdering Man in Quarrel.

PRESIDENT NAMES BRANDEIS

Nominates Him for Vacancy on Federal Supreme Bench.

Washington, Jan. 29.—President Wilson selected Louis D. Brandeis of Boston to be associate justice of the supreme court to succeed the late Justice Joseph R. Lamar.

Mr. Brandeis' nomination went to the senate. It was a surprise everywhere in official circles.

Mr. Brandeis had not even been mentioned for the vacancy.

MINNESOTA PRIMARY STATUTE IS UPHELD

St. Paul, Jan. 29.—The presidential preferential primary law in Minnesota was virtually upheld in a ruling handed down by the state supreme court in which it disposes of a test case brought by Walter N. Carroll of Minneapolis. The opinion covers both the delegate and elector features of the law.

Carroll recently sought to file as a Root candidate for delegate to the Republican national convention. Secretary of State Schmahl refused to accept the filing on the ground that Root's name had not been filed as a candidate in Minnesota.

The court upheld Schmahl, ruling candidates for delegates cannot file until after Feb. 3, the last day on which the names of presidential candidates can be filed.

Carroll then tried to file as a candidate for elector, with Root as his choice, and again was refused by Schmahl. The court holds the primary law does not require candidates for elector to name a presidential preference, but must vote for the candidate of their party receiving the largest popular vote.

The fort is situated on the peninsula at the eastern entrance at the head of the Gulf of Salonika. All four powers sent detachments ashore with a display of four colors, and intimidated the commander.

A Close Vote Confirm Brandeis

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 29.—By the closest vote a supreme justice was ever approved, Louis Brandeis will be confirmed, says reliable information, following a long fight with sectional racial feelings in which Senate traditions and party questions were involved. Conservative Democrats are realizing that Wilson will make a bitter fight for his confirmation and have the party won over to Brandeis.

This was his first stop on his western preparedness speaking tour, and there was no demonstration and but a small crowd to meet him. The president went to his hotel and sought his room preparing his speech while the party accompanying went for an auto ride.

Lusitania Dispute Considered Grave

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 29.—The Lusitania dispute with Germany is considered to be more grave than ever, and prompt German compliance with American demands will be necessary for the continuance of friendly relations between the two countries. The patience of the administration is vexed over the dilly-dallying of the Bernstorff-Lansing conversations.

SENATOR WALSH.

Montana Lawmaker Assails Sea Policy of Great Britain.

BRITISH SEA POLICY SCORED BY WALSH

Washington, Jan. 29.—"If the allies decline to yield to reason, we must cease trading with them," declared Senator Walsh (Dem., Mont.) to the senate, in assailing Great Britain's interference with neutral commerce of the United States.

In advancing retaliation he did not favor an embargo on war munitions, but he insisted that Great Britain and her allies were planning to make even more intolerable American rights to trade freely.

At the close of his speech Senator Walsh introduced a bill to prohibit commercial intercourse with any nation interfering with the legitimate trade of the United States.

It was referred to the foreign relations committee.

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 29.—At least four persons were killed when the lower Otay valley dam broke, releasing a wall of water thirty feet high. Scores of persons are missing. Late estimates indicate the death list will reach fifty. Twenty-five Japanese men, women and children were drowned.

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 29.—Fourteen persons were killed and a wide stretch of country devastated when a dam of the San Diego water system broke in the Otay valley, south of the city, under the strain of the flood waters caused by the storm which has been raging here for several days. Another dam is under a severe strain and its collapse is regarded as a possibility.

MONTANA SUFFERING FROM COAL FAMINE

Great Falls, Mont., Jan. 29.—With the temperature throughout Montana still far below the zero mark railroads are having increased difficulty in moving trains and the danger of a coal famine in many sections, particularly in the north part of the state, is acute. In a score of towns families are actually suffering from cold.

Railway officials at Great Falls admit that if the cold continues a week longer it will be almost impossible to move any trains. At present no effort is being made to move any freight out of Great Falls except coal.

Towns on the White Tail branch of the Soo line, in the northeast part of the state, have had no trains for two weeks. About 3,000 people are affected.

Fort Benton, Big Sando and other towns on the Great Northern north of Great Falls received a shipment of coal, but the dealers have none left.

On the main line of the Great Northern from Bainville to Glacier park practically every town, except Havre, is in immediate danger of a coal famine. Havre has natural gas and is not wholly depending on coal.

BLOCKS FILIPINO BILL VOTE

Cummins Gives Notice He Will Introduce Amendment.

Washington, Jan. 29.—An effort by Chairman Hitchcock of the senate Philippine committee to hasten a vote on the Philippine bill, was blocked by Senator Cummins, who objected to a suggestion that after Tuesday speeches be limited to ten minutes, and gave notice he would introduce an amendment which he would want to discuss at length.

Arguments against granting independence to the Filipinos were made by Senators Lippitt, McCumber and Harding.

The Man with money knows it pays to bank money

Comfort, ease and elegance is his reward. He didn't get it in one day, or a week or a year. He didn't "strike it rich". He didn't have a rich relative die and leave it to him. He banked his money. The amounts were small at first, but he KEPT AT IT; then the amounts grew larger, opportunities came and the little sum he started with became a great big FORTUNE.

At the Best
Theda Bara and William Shay appear in the startlingly modern screen drama produced by the William Fox Co. from the following poem:

SIN.
"You cannot sin by two and two
And settle one by one"
Thus it is writ and so shall be
Till the set of earth's last sun.

For Sin is sweet, and vows are frail
As the Stars of a tortured night
That lingering look on the sullen dawn
Ere they sickle and sink from sight.

Black Sin has patted God on the head
That woman might call him brave
But the deep-bit brand on his crimsoned hand
Not the seven Seas shall lave.

And when husked lives are ranged
In rows
At the trump of the Judgment Day
They shall cry "The soul that he got from God"

He has bartered for woman's clay.
And the winds that blow between the worlds
And sound the deeps of space
Shall mock the tears of the fool who died
For a woman's lying face.

Discussing the Cynic.
"What a cynic he is!"
"Yes; when I hear him denouncing everybody and everything I can't help wondering just what sort of a place he expected the world to be anyhow!"—Detroit Free Press.

WOMAN'S REALM

SHARPS AND FLATS

This column has taken a "rest" for a number of "measures". The writer may have been doing "time" behind the "bars" for making "bum note" of which he is more than capable—when playing a "bass" past—after thought—How he must have "trebled" as they placed him in the cell—oh—it does not matter, if he "repeats" it—it will be his "last ending".

The foregoing is nothing more nor less than an "introduction" which is as unnecessary as all introductions (musically speaking) and has nothing to do whatsoever with the items of musical interest that follow.

Last Saturday the first regular rehearsal of the Brainerd Symphony orchestra was held in the K. of C. hall. After "counting noses" it was found that some of the members were either absent or had been blessed with exceedingly short noses. Saturday night a full attendance of the string section is expected, at 6 p. m.

Last Wednesday evening a week ago, we were passing the city hall on our way to the business district, our way to the fire which threatened the business district, when we heard a terrible arguments going on up stairs in the council rooms, a mixture of curiosity and that "tell-every-one about-it" stuff took possession of us and piloted us up the stairway to have the "satisfaction" of informing the "city fathers" that their "cheerful" was burning—and would you believe it—Why Nero isn't in it with them—there was the Brainerd City band rehearsing, with the exception of Jim McPherson—but—"we always walk right in and sit down" and let the rest do the knocking. Well as I was saying—the Brainerd City band was rehearsing under the "furious" direction of Mr. E. H. Bergh, everybody interested and all out of wind—which probably accounts for fires demise. A little investigation brought forth the fact that they were preparing for a big band concert to be given in the opera house during the month of March. What we heard was good. A word to the wise etc. The band will continue to rehearse every Wednesday night regardless of fires, intruders and the weather.

The second concert of the season 1915-16 will be given by the Brainerd Symphony Orchestra in the opera house March 3rd, with Donna Ribbles Plaatens, soprano, as the leading soloist, who has an enviable reputation in Duluth where the name Plaatens is synonymous with music.

A small string orchestra was heard last night at the Junior Musical club. The number selected is the famous minuet from Don Giovanni. The members of this orchestra are Irene Evans, Lester Bredenberg, Margaret Hough, Robt. Hiteh, Georgia Drexler, Cecil Morrison, Harold Opsahl, John Gemmell, Margaret Webb and Irene Quinn.

Perhaps the most pretentious number on the program of the Brainerd Symphony Concert is the inspiring finale of Haydens "Creation", "The Heaven's are Telling".

The Junior Symphony Orchestra meets every Friday at the library. They are preparing for their first concert which takes place February 22nd, in the opera house, with Miss Georgia Drexler as soprano soloist and Miss Elizabeth Johnstone as pianist.

Margaret Hough was heard at the Congregational church last Sunday, in, as one of the members remarked, "A very pleasing solo."

Lester Bredenberg and Anna Hougstad are new and valuable members of the Brainerd Symphony and Junior orchestras.

We do not feel that this column would be complete without some mention of the "Ham" orchestra: Helen Frost and Joe Nelson, we have "di" so now, we are done—Coda—Dee-dee-dee—Fine!

Exactly So.

"The doctor knows I hate camphor." "So?" "Yet first he made me sniff it, and now he has prescribed it as a liniment." "I can't rub it in"—Kansas City Journal.

Woman Orange Grower Overalls and Jumper

(By United Press)
San Bernardino, Cal., Jan. 29.—Miss Susie Stockschlaeder, formerly of Rochester, N. Y., who wears overalls while at work is generally regarded here as the champion woman orange grower of America. She is 22 years old. A few years ago she started ranching with five acres and nothing worth mentioning growing on it but herself. Today that land and other orange acreage she acquired is producing a nursery and fruit stock worth $15,000 a year. She has 35,000 budded trees. Five thousand of them are citrus trees, ready for this spring's market. Ten thousand more of them are growing for a later market. When any of the mere men farmers are at a loss for information they go and ask "Susie." If they do what she says, usually they make money by it, they say. In the groves the girl wears overalls and a blue shirt, and does as strenuous manual labor as any "hand" on the place.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 29, 1916

The first robin has been reported at Mankato, appearing in the morning, remaining through the day and departing for parts unknown at night. If Mankato was in the Indian belt we might be persuaded to believe it.

This is a reminder of the good old winters that we "used to have back in Maine," and some other states years ago, when the snow covered up the rail fences and the wind beat it together so hard that the children walked on the crust over the drifts to school and thought it great sport. The fellows who never experienced those snow storms of the 70's and who have been hearing about them can take the present snow shoveling experience as a very slight example of what they missed.

Frank S. Lyan has been mentioned as a possible candidate to the republican national convention and the Benidji gentleman will meet with loyal support from this end of the district if he decides to allow the use of his name in that connection. Mr. Lyan is well known throughout the state as a loyal republican and his selection would be pleasing to his hosts of friends. Up to the present time very few candidates have been mentioned in this connection but it is time that the matter was given serious consideration.

Mower county is dry and its people have become accustomed to water in its original form as a beverage. Yesterday when they were treated to a mixture of gasoline and water they thought the limit had been reached and many of the old timers who were used to a mixture in the days gone by but who had never partaken of a gasoline highball before thought their good resolutions were being disregarded. An investigation showed that a large gasoline tank at the pumping station had rusted and its contents were being poured into the well from which the drinking water supply is drawn.

SAME IS TRUE TODAY

From the Akeley Tribune (August, 1904): Martin Minster, senior vice commander of the Park Region department of the G. A. R., and a member of Co. A, Third Minnesota infantry, says that he will support Congressman Buckman for the congressional nomination before the primaries. He says that there is a sentiment among the old soldiers in this vicinity that a man who has been so loyal to the old soldier who was loyal to "Old Glory" in those trying days of '61, is a safe man to put in the official directory of this great government. "Congressman Buckman has been successful in 27 per cent of his pension cases, or 17 per cent more than any other Minnesota congressman," said Mr. Minster. "The next best average was 10 per cent, and that is considered very good. And remember, too, this is Mr. Buckman's first term, and the average representative is not expected to accomplish a great deal during a first term in the house. In this Mr. Buckman has proven an exception to the rule. He has accomplished an immense amount of business with the postoffice department in securing rural routes; also with the land department in the protection of northern Minnesota timber. We feel that he should be sent to congress, for another term, at least."

Mr. Minster says that Congressman Buckman will receive almost the entire vote of the men who follow logging and the woods, because so many of them have been employed by Mr. Buckman, and Martin has been unable to find a single man who has ever worked for the congressman who does not speak of him in the highest terms as an employer. He has never been known to have given the working man the worst of it, every man leaving his employ satisfied—and that is saying a great deal for a man who has employed thousands of men.

Duke of Genoa
"Subs" for the King of Italy

BY HENRY WOOD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Rome, Jan. 29.—(By Mail).—The Duke of Genoa who "subs" as King at the Quirinal while Victor Emanuel is at the front, is fast proving himself a formidable rival of the latter for the affections of the Italian people. King Victor, however, seems in no way disturbed. Eight months ago he asked his august uncle to come down to Rome and "sit in" for him. Until his return from the Italian front this week the king had not even returned to Rome to see how his "sub" was getting away with the job. There is perhaps no other royal family in Europe whose members would do such a thing. The House of Savoy now includes, besides King Victor and the Duke of Genoa, the Duke of the Abruzzi, the Duke of Aosta and the Count of Turin. The five are cronies. Each has had the rigid military or naval training required of every male member of the House and each is considered competent to be king. Victor would just as soon trust one as the other. He chose the Duke of Genoa because he was the eldest. He figured the younger ones could better serve Italy in their respective positions as military and naval commanders. The choice met with disapproval only from the Duke himself.

"I know I am getting old," he said wistfully to the court functionaries who welcomed him to the throne, "but my hand would rather have grasped the sword than the pen that must sign royal decrees."

King Victor has ever been known as the most democratic sovereign in Europe, although perhaps the title of Soldier King would better suit him. His "sub" has gone him one better for democracy and won for himself the sobriquet of the Civilian King.

The nearest the Duke of Genoa comes to accepting any of the kingly perquisites that go with his job, is at 4 each day when he goes for his drive in the country. Four cavalrymen surround his carriage and a corps of bicycle guards follow. The police won't let him drive unless he accepts this escort.

In the evening he makes up for it by walking about the streets of Rome in civilian clothes, accompanied only by his chief aid-de-camp. He traverses the principal streets and window shops as he goes along.

It was while amusing himself this way one evening that the Duke saw a street car collide with a fat woman. Of all the men who leaped to her assistance, the Duke got there first. She was quite uninjured but the Duke bundled her off to a hospital before she knew who had helped her.

Half an hour later, when the Duke returned to the Quirinal he sent his aide to the hospital to make certain she really was not injured.

When the Duke comes down to Rome to "sit in" for his nephew as King he does not bring his family with him. His nearest relative here is his sister, Queen Mother Margherita and he never tires of visiting her hospitals and charity works with her.

The Duke comes nearest to being king on Thursdays and Sundays, when the ministers bring the various decrees to him for his vicarious royal signature. It is then that he gets first hand information from the Prime Minister, the Minister of War and the Minister of Marine on the conduct of hostilities. The Minister of Marine especially never fails to bring him some news about his son, the Prince Udine, who is commanding a squadron of submarines.

The Duke's new job brought back to public memory the fact that his wife is a German princess. She and all of the children however, are loyally Italian.

Once a week the Duke tries to get away and go home to see them. It was while waiting for the train once to bring him back from one of these home visits that a distinguished army officer commiserated with him that the war kept them both separated from their families.

"And Your Highness, when do you think the blessed war will end?" demanded the officer.

"Not until we are victorious," declared the Duke as he boarded the train and started back to his throne.

President's Daughter Ready for Concert Tour

Ross W. David

Miss Margaret Wilson

This photograph shows Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the President, practicing in the studio of her musical instructor, Ross W. David, for her coming concert tour. She is the musical genius of the Wilson family, and her friends in Washington believe she would make a success even were she not the daughter of a President.

Telepathy in the Theater.

Sir Herbert Tree tells how some years ago, when playing Hamlet, he found himself in that scene on the ramparts when he awaits the approach of the ghost, gasping for breath and drenched with the dew of apprehension. "What a fool I am!" he cried to himself. "My back is to the audience, the scene is in darkness. Why should I waste so much mental force? Why not stand at rest, awaiting my cue with a cool pulse?" But a trial quickly showed him his error. He had difficulty to get back into the character, and, moreover, he discovered that the scene did not grip the audience with the same intensity at all. He had broken the spell.—Westminster Gazette.

THE POWER TO GOVERN.

Sometimes it is said that man cannot be trusted with the government of himself. Can he then be trusted with the government of others, or have we found angels in the form of kings to govern him? Let history answer this question.—Thomas Jefferson.

Crabs and Lobsters.

There are many curious points about crabs and lobsters. Every one of either genus is provided with a big claw for crushing and a small claw adapted by its shape for cutting as scissors do. With these two claws they tear the food they capture into fragments and feed themselves literally from "hand to mouth." But there is every reason to suppose that the claws are intended, quite as much for fighting as for eating purposes, inasmuch as such powerful hands are not needed for devouring the soft food they prefer.

Where Does Lightning Go?

Lightning is the light caused by the passage of an electric current or an electric discharge, so we say. Now, where does the lightning go when it reaches the ground? With the passage of the electricity the lightning flash is gone. But it is not the lightning that reaches the ground; it is the electricity. That passes into the ground and causes changes that man is just beginning to understand. It has a definite effect on the soil and upon the life contained in the soil.—Kansas City Star.

"Greatness" on the Film.

It is never wise to predict that the miraculous will not occur. There may come a time when careful critics will award to some movie players the treasured adjective "great." But at the present time certainly any such use of the adjective would be absurd. The movie drama has not yet shown itself capable nor given the slightest indication that it ever can show itself capable of affording an actor the chance to do great work.—Walter Prichard Eaton in American Magazine.

Constructive Legislation.

First Lawyer—What makes you think we shall not be able to get this law passed by the legislature? Second Lawyer—It's too simple. Almost any one can understand it. It ought to be so complex and vague that nobody can understand it. Then it is bound to pass, because nobody would admit that he didn't understand it.—New York Sun.

Why Bixby Doesn't Go.

Annual Foreign Trade Convention

(By United Press)

New Orleans, Jan. 29.—With the commercial and industrial interests of the United States equipped with a clear cut plan whereby the manufacturers and bankers of every section will pull together to develop European and South American trade, the final sessions of the Third Annual National Foreign Trade Convention were held here today. The biggest men in business and finance, men whose entire careers have been devoted to foreign trade and experts in every line of manufacture and merchandising on an international scale have given their views, which have been welded tentatively into a working plan under the direction of the National Foreign Trade Council. A special train for New York and the North will carry the hundreds of delegates away from here at 6 o'clock this afternoon. Commenting upon the third conference, Chairman Farrell of the council expressed the opinion that as the results thereof the United States will accomplish in the development of foreign trade in one year what it would have taken individual effort five years to do, if individual effort could have done it at all.

Almost the last thing the visitors did was to get around and see something of Old New Orleans. Members of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce, the organization whose guest the trade convention has been, took the trade men in automobiles to see the quaint and picturesque quarter with its narrow little streets, hidden and flower buried courts and top-heavy old French houses. One of the more important trips was the inspection of the Port Improvement works.

LITTLE NEWS O' THE DAY

St. Paul, Jan. 29.—Former Chicago White Sox Pitcher Roy Patterson has a hockey team at the northwest meet here today.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Jan. 29.—This is McKinley Carnation Day, which was established by Joseph Adams of this city. Adams died in 1914. The carnation was President McKinley's favorite flower.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Jan. 29.—For the first time in the history of the institution men will take part in the annual Vassar play, which this year is "The Road to Yesterday." The play will be presented tonight.

When bilious, headachy, sick, for sour stomach, bad breath, bad colics.

Get a 10 cent box.

Take a Cascaret to-night to cleanse your liver, stomach and bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, a bad cold, are bilious, nervous upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have a headache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember a cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning. A 10c box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.—Adv.

SUPREME COURT DECISION

Reverses Order and Orders Judgment for Defendant in Downs vs
American Surety Co.

The state supreme court has handed down a decision in the case of J. W. Downs and A. L. Downs, etc., respondents, vs the American Surety Co., appellant, concerning the liability under an attachment bond, and has reversed the order of the lower court and ordered judgment for the defendant.

The syllabus is given in full:

No liability arises under an attachment bond given pursuant to G. S. 1913, Sec. 7847, from a judgment of dismissal, where the record shows that it was entered pursuant to a stipulation of the parties settling and adjusting all matters in dispute between them. First, such a stipulation releases the principal on the attachment bond, and by so doing releases the surety. Second, the statute is part of the contract between the parties. The judgment contemplated by the statute and the bond is a judgment determining that plaintiff had no cause of action at the time the attachment was made.

The rule against collateral attack of judgments is not here involved. Order reversed and judgment ordered for defendant. HALLAM, J.

In the opinion it is stated that the Enterprise Manufacturing Co., sued plaintiffs in this action and attached certain of their property. To procure the attachment the Enterprise Co. gave a bond with itself as principal, and defendant American Surety Co. as surety, conditioned to pay all damages sustained "in case the defendants recover judgment or in case the writ shall be set aside or vacated."

No move was made to set aside or vacate the judgment. After some lapse of time the parties to the attachment suit settled their differences and stipulated as follows: "All matters in dispute between the respective parties—having this day been settled and adjusted, it is hereby stipulated and agreed that the said action be—dismissed—, that all property taken and held by the sheriff—under— writ of attachment in said action, shall be by said sheriff returned to said defendants."

This stipulation was filed with the clerk of the district court. Ten months later judgment of dismissal was entered in favor of Downs & Sons, the defendants in that action. The judgment recited that it was entered pursuant to the stipulation of the parties. The property was restored to Downs & Sons. They now contend that the property was damaged while under attachment, and they bring this action against this defendant as surety on the bond.

Liability is claimed, not on the ground that the writ of attachment was "set aside or vacated," but on the ground that defendant in the attachment suit "recovered judgment." The court instructed the jury that defendant Surety Company was liable for all damages Downs & Sons sustained by reason of the attachment. The jury returned a verdict for plaintiff accordingly. The defendant appealed.

"We are of the opinion that defendant was entitled to judgment as a matter of law," says Judge Hallam who wrote the opinion. "The stipulation above mentioned settling all matters in dispute between the parties operated to release the Enterprise Company from all liability on the attachment bond. This is a statutory bond, and the statute forms part of the contract of the parties. It is contended that this is a collateral attack upon the judgment in the attachment suit. We do not consider it an attack upon that judgment at all. The face of the judgment may, we think, be examined to determine the nature of the judgment without infraction of the rule against collateral attack."

DRINK HOT TEA
FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest
St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled. This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

Saving a Black Fox Skin.

Presence of mind is the soul of many exercises. If soldiers and sailors owe it to many of their lucky escapes, hunters and sportsmen are not less beholden to it for many of their successes. In a noble forest in Russia I met a black fox whose valuable skin it would have been a pity to tear by ball or shot. Reynard stood close to a tree. In a twinkling I took out my ball and placed a good spikenail in its room, fired and hit him so cleverly that I nailed his brush fast to the tree. I now went up to him, took out my hanger, gave him a cross cut over the face, laid hold of my whip and fairly dogged him out of his fine skin.—Munchausen.

Ballot and Suffrage.

"Ballot" and "suffrage" show the language perpetuates the memory of primitive methods. A "ballot" should be a vote taken with balls—one of the various ancient Greek instruments of secret voting. And the word "suffrage," which by some is derived from "suffrago," a knucklebone or anklebone, in that case recalls an early method of recording the vote.

EAT LESS MEAT
IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys
if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

AMALGAMATED ORDER SNOW SHOVELERS

Has a Meeting This Morning. Reports by Officers. Also by the Chief Observer

SNOWFALL IS VERY HEAVY

Letter Carriers Voted Sympathy Shopmen Given a Vote of Thanks For Breaking Trail

FAMINE IN SNOW SHOVELS

With the heaviest snowfall on record this winter, Brainerd faces a snow shovel famine and accordingly has no way to dig itself out from under.

There has been an unprecedented demand for snow shovels.

D. M. Clark & Co. sold their last shovel to Charles Gustafson this morning. In attacking a big snow bank, Gustafson broke off the old shovel squarely at the handle and then bought the last one Clark had.

"Jim" Alderman, of Clark's reports that a shipment of shovels is coming on the midnight express from Duluth. St. Paul and Minneapolis were sold out on shovels and Duluth had the only near by stock on hand.

Slipp-Gruehagen's have two shovels left and report that a shipment of shovels will arrive by express on Monday.

White Bros. have 3 or 4 small snow shovels left.

The Amalgamated Order of Snow Shovelers had a well attended meeting this morning. As the president rapped to order, using a huge icicle for his gavel, he waved his hand at the snow flakes as though praying the heavens to cease their feathery discharge.

The secretary reported that there had been a large increase of numbers since the agitation had been started for clean sidewalks. It was now held one of the duties of citizenship, although not so stated in the study of civics, that a clean sidewalk went hand-in-hand, so to speak, with the privilege of exercising the right of franchise.

North side members pointed with particular pride to North Fifth street. There was a clean stretch of walk, every householder doing his share to keep the walk in front of his home cleared. The snow thrown into the street looked like a first-line trench in the European war.

SHOVELED SNOW HAS HEART FAILURE

Special to Dispatch by Telephone: Barrows, Minn., January 29—Shortly after shoveling heavy drifts from his walk at Barrows, J. R. Parham, aged 69, storekeeper, toppled over in his chair and died of heart failure. He leaves a wife and no children. His former home was in Iron River, Wis. No funeral arrangements have been announced.

On the south side, South Broadway on its west side, was cleared with the exception of three householders who so far had utterly neglected to move a shovel. They probably considered the snow an act of God and that it was up to God to remove what had been showered down.

Ladies were admitted into membership because it was reported that many of the best walks had been cleared by the ladies while their husbands were out town bragging about their fine walks and forgetting the lady who had done the shoveling.

On motion, the letter carriers were voted a bunch of sympathy.

On motion, the shop men were given a vote of heartfelt thanks. They are first down town in the morning and are the first trail breakers.

It was reported that considerable snow shoveling of roofs is in progress. At the Swedish Lutheran church yesterday the minister and building committee had their walks about the church nice and clean and they will have to turn out again today.

Hardware stores report a big and increasing sale of snow shovels. Yesterday evening Amos Hykes, a friend of P. B. Nettleton, went by the latter's office and saw the pile of snow there.

"Nettleton," said Mr. Hykes, "has been in Washington some time and doesn't know about the snow." He borrowed a shovel and shoveled the walk clean. That's showing friendship in a most practical way.

Out at the Gull lake dam C. M. Observer A. Mampel reported that the fall of snow started about 5 o'clock Friday evening. There was a drift out at his root house which was 7 feet high. There were 11 buildings and 3,000 feet of sidewalk to shovel clear and Mr. Mampel saw where he had a long job ahead of him.

The Amalgamated Order of Snow Shovelers suggested that Mr. Mampel dig tunnels to his respective buildings at the Gull lake dam and thus reach the dam buildings in an easier manner.

Mr. Mampel reported that he measured the snowfall by gathering it in a can in a quiet place, thus obviating any drifts. However, the average man measures snow by the drifts he has to wade through.

On motion the Amalgamated Order of Snow Shovelers ordered the secretary to write the St. Paul winter carnival association to cease praying for snow. Their prayers had covered too much territory.

Down in the railway yards the switch engines are getting chummy. Instead of bucking the drifts alone, all three hook up and tackle the job together. They can thus do more work than going at it singly.

The 4 o'clock morning passenger from Staples showed up at 8:30 today, the coast trains having been delayed. In the yards a small army of snow shovelers is at work.

A committee was appointed to look up the authorship of "Beautiful Snow" and if the writer was alive, to bring said author to Brainerd and stick his head in a snow drift.

In the business section teams will soon be needed to haul away the snow accumulating in the gutters. The business section has the appearance of having its streets fortified, the banks being so high at the edge of the sidewalks.

The M. & I. train from the north was 2 hours late. The Duluth noon passenger was 1 hour late. The fire truck on a practice run this morning stuck in a drift near Norwood and South Sixth streets.

The Northwest Paper Co. ran a snow plow from the mill location to the bridge fill, so that their car could negotiate the distance. Residents of Northeast Brainerd greatly appreciated the action of the company. St. Hall's and other snow plows are operating in other sections.

The Dispatch received a phone message from N. E. Brainerd residents that the Northwest Paper Co. be thanked for its public spirit.

BRAINERD 58, STAPLES 8

Brainerd Victorious in Fast Game of Basketball at High School Auditorium

STAPLES ROOTERS VERY QUIET

Brainerd Shift Plays Confuse the Staples Players—Staples First Appearance in Year

In a fast but rather one-sided game last night the Brainerd high school basketball quint defeated the Staples team by a good safe margin of fifty points, being 58 to 8. The locals were right "on their toes" at every stage of the game.

The Staples team played a hard game but the speed of the locals proved too much for the visitors. Moistad played a very good game at forward and Bredenberg made a good showing at the pivotal job during the first half. Warner was on the job and his shift plays made the Staples quint guess where the next ball would go.

Ellender played his usual game at the forward position and Hagberg and O'Brien played sensational ball at the guarding positions. Olson replaced Moistad in the last half and made a good showing for himself.

The large body of fans who accompanied the team from Staples remained very quiet and seemed dissatisfied with their team. Allowance should be made for the fact that it was the Staples team's first appearance this year.

The locals played a very good game and are to be credited with their fine class of playing and are worthy of every loyal citizen's support. The locals will make a trip to Wadena next and after that game is the "thriller" of the season. Don't forget!

CHIROPRACTORS MEET

Dr. I. C. Edwards of Brainerd Delivers Address at Meeting in West Hotel, Minneapolis

At a recent meeting of the Chiropractors of Minnesota, which was held in the lecture hall of the West Hotel in Minneapolis, there was formed and incorporated an organization, to be known as the Minnesota Chiropractors association.

Following the election of officers Dr. Paul named the necessary committees and the regular business of the convention proceeded.

A number of short but interesting lectures were made by some of the more prominent members.

Dr. Arthur Anger of Fergus Falls, gave a beneficial talk on spinal adjustments.

He was followed by Dr. D. W. Reiland of Duluth, as speaker who talked on regulation of the abdominal organs and causes of their irregularities.

Dr. J. W. Pointer, of Minneapolis, devoted several minutes in instructive illustrations of the benefits received by the general public from chiropractic adjustments.

Dr. W. H. Vreeland of St. Paul, gave a very interesting and to-the-point talk on legislation and the benefits to be derived from it.

Dr. I. C. Edwards of Brainerd, gave a short talk on the cooperation of all chiropractors in the field, regardless of the school from which they graduated, provided the school be a thorough and recognized one. Stating that there seemed to be some little factional differences between graduates from some of the leading schools of the country, he pointed out how there was to be found strength and power in unity and urged the necessity for all to pull together to the one end and that point to be, to get proper and adequate legislation and so raise the standard of chiropractic to its highest point of efficiency.

Without a doubt the most elaborate talk of the meeting was given by the newly elected president, Dr. W. O. Henry Paul of Mankato.

Dr. Fred Murray, of Minneapolis, gave a splendid talk on the practitioners' duty to charity stating among other valuable points, that the heart-felt thanks often shown on the face of a charity patient after getting relief through drugless methods always repaid one for his time and trouble.

After the meeting adjourned a banquet was served to nearly one hundred. After the table was cleared Dr. Carl A. Lindgreen, of Minneapolis, gave a most encouraging talk on the future of chiropractic.

SCHOOL MATE OF JOHN MCCORMACK

Rev. John Crean, of St. Francis Catholic Church, Went to School With Him in Sligo

SANG IN CATHEDRAL THERE

Father Crean Heard Him in Dublin, in Brainerd Recognized Voice in Victrola Records

To have heard a great singer years ago, a boyhood friend of early school days in Sligo, Ireland, and then to hear the same loved tones revealed by a Victrola record, was the experience of Rev. John Crean, of St. Francis Catholic church as he visited the H. F. Michael Co. store Friday afternoon and heard the world-famous John McCormack sing "A Little Bit of Heaven," "Killarney," "Mother Machree," "I Hear You Calling Me," "Ave Maria," and other compositions.

Father Crean and John McCormack attended the Seminary of the Immaculate Conception in Sligo, situated in County Sligo, Ireland. Even in those early days McCormack had a voice which revealed wonderful sweetness and power. He was considered the best tenor in the school and later had the honor to sing in the noted cathedral when he was 18 years old.

McCormack was born in Athlone, Ireland, where the river Shannon flows. He married a very beautiful and rarely cultured Irish girl named Lilly Foley who was born in Dublin.

McCormack studied and his voice increased in sweetness and beauty. Six years ago Rev. Crean heard him sing in Dublin. About twelve years ago McCormack came to the United States, making his first appearance at the World's fair in St. Louis, where he sang twice a day with a group of Irish singers. He received $18 a week and he said he earned it, every bit of it.

Ten years later he went back to St. Louis and they were glad to get him at $2,000 a night. In the year closing February 28, 1915, over 800,000 records of his songs were sold in this country alone. Following that, during the three months of March, April and May, 1915, over 250,000 were sold.

McCormack has shown beyond a doubt that English is a singable language. Since his college days when some of his English songs were thought to be in foreign tongues he has made enunciation one of his strong points, and the result is that persons who do not understand English, or to whom it is an acquired language, enjoy his English words as keenly as they do the ones of their childhood.

He gives his audiences the kind of music they want to hear: classical, popular songs, as "I Hear You Calling Me," and folk songs. The "high-brows" of music and men and women who love just melody and harmony, mingle in the crowds that go to hear him and all come away equally pleased.

A pianist and composer who has given his life to the theory of music, said: "Always I go to hear John McCormack in a highly critical mood, promising myself to detect the inevitable flaw in a singer's technique, and always I end by bathing my soul in melody—and forgetting technique."

McCormack sings at the new armory in Duluth on Saturday evening, February 5th. Those unable to hear him will have the consolation of hearing his golden voice daily in the records which have preserved forever his priceless voice.

THE STAPLES FIRE

Staples Bank and Theatre Burned Out, Losses and Insurance Given in Detail

Staples, Minn., Jan. 28—The City National bank, valued at $5,000, and the Strand theatre, worth $2,000 and owned by the bank, burned last night. They were insured for about two-thirds their value. The Strand was occupied by Ray Wilson as a moving picture show. His loss is $2,000, with insurance of $400. The G. A. Anderson blacksmith shop and its contents, valued at $2,000, also burned. It was insured for $1,000. Nathan Dannovsky's fur store and residence were damaged. The only other loser was the Northwestern Telephone company. A cable containing all wires connecting the northern section of the city burned in two. The fire started in the rear of the theatre.

John McCormack Heard in Brainerd

And may Be Heard in Any Home

"We find that we cannot go to the cities to hear John McCormack sing but we realize that we cannot be deprived the pleasure of his voice if we have a Victrola," said one of our patrons.

Said another lady who recently purchased a Victrola: "My husband and I have wondered why we did not get a Victrola long ere this and enjoy the wonderful music it renders. We did not realize what we have missed. Five hundred dollars would not take ours if we could not get another."

Remember that these instruments were VICTROLAS and not just any talking machine. The Victrola is supreme in its perfect reproduction of the human voice.

DEMOCRATS SEEK TO DODGE ISSUES

President Will Have to Force Preparedness Bill Through.

THEY HATE TO TACKLE IT.

Wilson, However, by Creating Public Sentiment in Favor of Measure Will Give the Congressmen Their Bitter Medicine—Uses Tactics Somewhat Like Those of the Big Stick Days.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 29.—[Special.]—"Gosh, but we hate to tackle it!" That was a heartfelt expression from a Democrat. He referred to the president's preparedness program and providing the funds to carry it on. That explains why congress has been going along doing little or nothing as yet.

That President Wilson is going to make them take their dose there can be no question. He is going to take the extraordinary course of going out among the people and stirring up a sentiment which will react on congress, and make the halting members of his party walk up and accept their medicine. He may not be able to make them say they like it, but he intends that they shall take it.

Not the Roosevelt Way.

Roosevelt when president forced a halting congress by creating a public sentiment. But he did not tour the country on a speechmaking journey. He might make a speech as a starter, but his real method was to let it filter out through the papers that certain interests were opposing his policies in congress, with hints that the money devil or other powerful influences were fighting him. At all events, it was sufficient to secure results. Recalcitrant Republicans were warned by the papers to cease their opposition or their connections with certain corporate interests would be exposed. It did not take long for Roosevelt to have his party in line behind him. Mighty few men could stand the pointing of the Roosevelt finger at them with the word "crooks" upon his lips.

An Assurance From Cummins.

When the senate was discussing liquor selling in the Philippines Senator Lippitt of Rhode Island said that he thought it was not consistent for the American congress to force prohibition on the islands when we had rejected the principle in regard to the United States. This brought up Senator Cummins of Iowa, who assured Lippitt that as yet no vote had been taken on the subject, but asserted that the prohibition amendment would be reported from the committee and an opportunity given for senators to vote upon it at an early day. That will be the first real test vote on the subject.

Not Made of Special Material.

For many years there has been thrown about the word diplomacy a sort of sacredness. The assumption has been that diplomats with diplomacy have been safeguarding the rest of the world. Of course those who have come in close touch with diplomats and know about diplomacy are aware of the great amount of humbug there is in it all. Consequently those persons rather appreciated this statement from Meyer London, the only Socialist in congress.

"I refuse to believe," he told the house, "that God Almighty has picked out some special material out of which he created statesmen and diplomats. The diplomats have so cleverly managed the world that they have got everybody fighting but themselves."

Utility Instead of Ornament.

Congressman Clark of Florida in speaking of the public building system of the country took a crack at the architects. "Hereafter," he said, "public buildings, especially postoffices, will be built for convenience instead of ornament, for the purpose of utility instead of beauty, so that employees can have places to do their work properly, rather than the outside shall be pleasing to the aesthetic eye."

Working Two Phases.

In both houses of congress those opposing large military expenditures are working on two arguments. One is "blood money" and the other is "battered prosperity." They are used in connection with enormous export of munitions of war from this country to Europe and which are being used so extensively. It is probable that the arguments will continue to be used, although it may not disturb those who are enjoying the profits.

Made Thousands of Friends.

Congressman Lefawn of Pennsylvania has made many thousands of friends in Washington. He has introduced a bill making Saturday afternoon a half holiday the year around for all government employees. There is not a government employee who does not approve that proposition, and it is probable that custom will make it a law in time.

Will Try It Again.

Congressman Lever is determined to try again to pass his bill to tax exchanges and similar places so that the price of cotton need not be manipulated, as southern men claim it is manipulated, to the detriment of the producer and to the great benefit of dealers and middlemen. This bill has passed the house, but it gets lost somewhere in the law making process.

Former Public Service Commissioner Robert Colcate Wood of New York city has been indicted on a charge of having solicited a bribe for his influence in swinging to the Union Switch and Signal company of Swissvale, Pa., the contract for installing a signal system in the Centre street loop of the new subway station. He pleaded not guilty and was released in $7,500 bail.

MANY HOMELESS IN FLOOD

Thousands of Acres Inundated Along White and Arkansas Rivers.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 29.—Hundreds of persons are homeless and have asked for aid and thousands of acres of land are inundated in the lower reaches of the White and the Arkansas rivers. Upstream, with the Arkansas river four miles wide at Mulberry, is a volume of water which rivermen believe will cause the worst flood in twenty-five years when it pours down stream.

Elbert Stone of Watson, Ark., a planter and storekeeper, in a long distance telephone conversation said virtually 500 families were driven from their homes and are suffering.

Prisoner Declares to Judge It Was First in Six Years.

Springfield, N. Y., Jan. 29.—Louis Duryea, thirty-eight years old, arrested and charged with kissing a young woman, in court declared he hadn't had a kiss for six years.

"Then you'll not kiss another for six months anyway," said the judge, committing him to the workhouse.

HUGHES' SILENCE WORRIES LEADERS

Looked on as Most Likely Choice of Republicans.

CANDIDATES IN THE SENATE

When Democrats Had Long List of Names to Choose From in Baltimore Not One Came From the Senate. Now All G. O. P. Possibilities Are Senators Except a Judge and Colonel.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 26.—[Special.]—Four years ago when there were so many Democratic candidates for president none was from the United States senate, although two of the most prominent possibilities were in the house of representatives. This year there are no candidates for president in the house on the Republican side, although there are several candidates and a number of possibilities in the senate.

And yet the impression seems to be that the Republican candidate will not be a senator. Something tells the average politician that the Republican choice will fall outside of the senate.

A Sphinx With Whiskers.

Very seldom do cartoonists put whiskers on a sphinx, but it appears that the sphinx of the Republican presidential situation is ornamented with whiskers. "That animated feather duster," as William R. Hearst once remarked, and Hearst knew, for he ran against him for governor and was defeated, is giving Republicans a great deal of concern these days. If the associate justice of whom we hear so much does not break the silence pretty soon there is danger of some fellows blowing up.

Clark and Bryan.

All there is to the story that Bryan would be likely to support Champ Clark in order to defeat Wilson for the nomination is the fact that one or two active Bryan men have been inquiring around to see if Champ could be induced to run against Wilson. They didn't even go so far as to prefer Bryan support. Nor did they approach Clark with the proposition. One can readily imagine how much faith Champ would put in a Bryan proposition after his experience at Baltimore.

Oleomargarine in the Pot.

"We have put everything into the pot," remarked a member of the ways and means committee. "We are going to put in everything which would seem to afford the possibility of taxation in order to raise money for war preparation. When the time comes we will sort out that which seems least burdensome to the people."

Among things which "have gone into the pot" is a proposition to reduce the tax on oleomargarine to a revenue producing point. At present it is prohibitive almost, but if it was simply taxed to get revenue it is estimated that $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 would be raised.

"We will have to drop it out," said the member. "Already the mere suggestion has raised a howl from the dairy districts, which shows that we could not pass it."

Williams' Belief in Wilson.

It seemed almost impossible that John Sharp Williams should sound the tocsin that one man power is desirable, he who has discoursed long and eloquently on the beauties of democracy. Speaking of our foreign relations, he said:

"I am sorry that congress had to meet right now. I think that our diplomatic affairs would have been more wisely handled by a man of long vision and deep vision and tender vision than they are apt to be when they are made the game of a battle-dore and shuttlecock on the floor of the two houses."

The time was when Williams believed congress ought to have its say about the affairs of the nation.

Preparedness and Peace.

It happened that there were two conventions for preparedness and a convention for peace and anti-preparedness going on at one big hotel in Washington. The sessions were being held at the same time. It was all the hotel employees could do to keep them from getting mixed and to steer the right people into the right place. We have our war troubles in Washington as well as elsewhere.

What's He There For?

What does Jim Mann imagine he is minority leader for? Here is one of his utterances recently: "It is one of the peculiarities of politics that when the Democrats are short of other things they abuse the Republican leader. That is always safe. It never takes either acumen, intelligence nor any other attribute which naturally belongs to a member of congress."

Of course if the man to whom that was addressed was anything but a rubber ball he would have been crushed. But it happened to be Congressman Baker of California, and he recovered as quickly as said rubber ball.

Critic's Shining Mark.

Senator Sherman unloaded this on the senate during a recent speech: "It is characteristic of the most prominent critics that their chief function is to criticize people who run for office and are sometimes successful in being elected. They become shining marks for the critics."

COAL MINERS AGREE ON WAGE DEMANDS

Indianapolis, Jan. 29.—The United Mine Workers of America in convention decided by a virtually unanimous vote to ask the bituminous coal operators throughout the country for a 10 per cent increase in wages at the basing point for miners on a mine run basis, a 10 per cent advance for all dead work and yardage and a 20 per cent increase for all men paid by the day.

In addition the convention ratified the demands formulated by the anthracite mine workers of Pennsylvania at a convention held in Wilkesbarre, Pa., last September asking for a 20 per cent advance in wages, complete recognition of the union and an eight-hour day for day labor.

FAVORS CAMPAIGN FUND BILL

Senate Committee Recommends Passage of Measure.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The senate elections committee recommended passage of bills to make it unlawful for any member of congress to serve on or solicit funds for any political committee, club or organization, to limit the use of campaign funds in presidential and congressional elections and to prohibit the movement of outside funds into "doubtful" localities.

RAISE $300,000 FOR HATTERS

Federation of Labor Members Unite to Help Pay Fines.

New York, Jan. 29.—Returns received from the important local unions in this city and elsewhere throughout the country belonging to the American Federation of Labor indicated that more than $300,000 had been contributed to save from foreclosure the homes of the Danbury haters. The sum of $252,000 will satisfy the court's judgment. It is estimated that between $50,000 and $75,000 was raised in Greater New York. The money was forthcoming in response to a call issued some weeks ago by President Samuel Gompers.

TO IGNORE PRIMARY LAW

Texas Democrats Will Select Delegates at Convention.

Dallas, Tex., Jan. 29.—Such sharp criticism of the presidential primary clause of the Texas primary law developed at the meeting here of the state Democratic executive committee that it was decided to ignore the clause in the selection of delegates to the national convention and to agitate for amendments to the law.

Delegates to the national convention will be selected as heretofore, at the state convention in some city to be chosen.

FRANCE GETS ANOTHER LOAN

Additional Credit of $15,000,000 Arranged at New York.

New York, Jan. 29.—An additional French credit loan of $15,000,000 has just been arranged by William P. Honbright & Co., who have formed a syndicate for the absorption of the acceptances.

This credit, like the one of last November, will run for one year and will cost the borrower 6½ per cent. Acceptances will be drawn by the borrowers in France and accepted by banking institutions on this side who have taken part in the handling of the loan.

Resolution Chides Japan.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Resolutions to express the sense of the senate that renewed demands by Japan upon China would be regarded as a restrictive act upon the commercial rights of the people of the United States and requesting the president to so inform Japan were introduced by Senator Sherman, Republican.

Paris, Jan. 29.—The Fifth Turkish army, which had been operating against the entente forces at the Dardanelles, has been ordered to the Greek frontier, according to news in diplomatic circles, says a dispatch to the Temps from Bucharest.

WILSON BEGINS SPEAKING TOUR

President Leaves Washington for the Middle West.

DEFENSE PROGRAM UPPERMOST

Information That Most of the Opposition to Army and Navy Increases is Centered in That Section of the Country Has Influenced the Chief Executive to Make the Trip.

Washington, Jan. 29.—President Wilson left Washington for a speaking tour in the Middle West in advocacy of his preparedness program.

He has been told that most of the opposition to army and navy increases is centered in that section of the country and believes the success of his defense plans depends in large measure in the impression he makes. He will be away from Washington until Feb. 4.

The president has not prepared the details of his addresses in the Middle West, but has outlined on paper and in his own mind the principal points he will make.

He will go over the army and navy program minutely, giving in detail the reasons why he believes they should be adopted, and also will touch on the Mexican and international questions and on various measures pending in congress.

Mr. Wilson has decided, it is understood, not to mince words in his references to "peace at any price" advocates or to supporters of extreme military increase.

While he probably will not mention any names he will indicate clearly his belief that leaders in each of those
